PRESIDENTIAL ELECTION.

Louisiana.

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—The Tribune's New Orleans special dispatch says there are so many parishes, nearly sixty in the State, that a week will pass before the unquestioned [illegible] are disposed of unless the board holds [illegible] meetings. The use of imperfect electoral tickets has given rise to no little discussion as to its result on the election in this State and United States, as in five the Hayes electors run considerably behind. It has been [illegible] that when the count is completed [illegible] in these five districts may be found to have received a majority of all the [illegible] cast for President. The question has [illegible] whether in such event any one will [illegible]. If no one is elected in [illegible] then the two who deserve certificates [illegible] under the laws of the State till [illegible]. Examination of the constitution [illegible] laws of Louisiana discloses the fact [illegible] are both silent on the question as to [illegible] law to be chosen is to receive a majority of all the votes cast or only a greater [illegible] than any other candidate. In the [illegible] Governor or other State office the [illegible] and [illegible] lawyers here hold [illegible] no provision is made as in [illegible] law in analogous cases [illegible] followed.

A New Orleans special says: The [illegible] committee here estimates the votes [illegible] by omission of the [illegible] nearly 2,000 [illegible] as follows: [illegible] tickets were [illegible] and Wheeler and the votes [illegible] to vote for all. Well [illegible] lawyers contend that if the [illegible] referred to are defeated by the [illegible] ticket, those who are elected would [illegible] to fill vacancies. In short, that [illegible] of those defeated by mistake in the [illegible] would be considered vacant, and to be [illegible] in the same way as in case of death or [illegible] of the elector.

[illegible] Democratic Negroes Say.

[illegible] colored men from Ouachita [illegible] every ward except one [illegible] clergymen, school teachers [illegible] who stumped their neighborhood for the Democratic ticket and voted [illegible] they had for Tilden and Nicholls [illegible] the city and have had an interview with prominent Democrats from the [illegible] were very interesting [illegible] seen or heard of any [illegible] violence or illegal means reported [illegible]. Several of them said [illegible] and Democratic tickets were [illegible] side by side at the polls and colored [illegible] were told that they would be protected [illegible] as they pleased. It was a little [illegible] that an intelligent negro farmer who [illegible] twenty miles of Monroe, knew [illegible] details of the trouble in that [illegible] the day before election. He simply [illegible] was some trouble there. This [illegible] made to shake confidence in the [illegible] of these colored people and [illegible] ability that much might [illegible] parishes of which they would [illegible]

[illegible] Nov. 22.—The Times' New Orleans [illegible] conversed with a number of [illegible] to-day, who all deny [illegible] existence of intimidation there on [illegible] day.

[illegible] Returning Board.

[illegible], Nov. 22.—The returning [illegible] convened to-day, and took [illegible] the Democratic counsel's [illegible] of protests, contests, &c., on the Republican side. The Democrats [illegible] against the board's rules. The [illegible] went into executive session, ex-Gov. Wickliffe, Democratic elector at [illegible] board deciding that he could only [illegible] contested case was called up [illegible] a protest. The following re[illegible] the room: The Democratic committee [illegible], Trumbull, Julian, G. B. [illegible] Bigler; Republican committee—Hale, Stoughton, Garfield and Kelley [illegible] reported that returns from 14 [illegible] not yet been received. The following [illegible] canvassed to-day in ex[illegible] St. Marys, Tilden, 1,485 [illegible] St. Helena, Tilden 949, Hayes, [illegible] Tilden, 404, Hayes 3,207, Terrebonne [illegible] 1,8[illegible], Hayes 1,970, Vermilion, [illegible] Hayes, 277; Washington, Tilden [illegible] La Fourche, Tilden, 1,894 [illegible] The vacancy in the board has [illegible] Adjourned.

[illegible] where it will do the [illegible] Good.

It is reported that the reason why the vacancy in the returning board has not yet been [illegible] because a conspiracy has been entered [illegible] by the Democrats, and Casanave and Kenner [illegible] colored members of the board. By [illegible] of the reported agreement the members [illegible] were to act in concert with the [illegible] who should be appointed to fill the [illegible] with him to count in the whole [illegible] ticket. For this treason to their party they were to receive $100,000 each. It [illegible] just to state that Packard and Kellogg [illegible] all knowledge of this transaction [illegible] is merely reported because of its at[illegible] a great deal of attention here.

More Threatening Letters.

[illegible] continue to receive threatening letters from all quarters, including one to-day from [illegible] New York Democrats declaring they will kill him if Hayes is declared elected.

The Times' Tallahassee special, speaking of [illegible], says it is plain the governor and [illegible] board are masters of the situation [illegible] and fact.

[illegible] Columbia correspondent gives [illegible] the case of the coup d'etat to-day [illegible] the board of canvassers were [illegible] by law they were compelled to close [illegible] within ten days after commencing and the time expires at noon to-day. [illegible] consequently no other course left [illegible]. The action was taken before the mandamus of the court was issued. At any rate it was done before the writ was served on the [illegible]. The board has now ceased to exist.

Florida.

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—The Tallahassee fight [illegible] a mandamus issued from the Circuit [illegible] S. B. McLin, Secretary of State, and C. A. Cowgill, Comptroller, to compel a meeting of the canvassing board to canvass such [illegible] as may be on file in the secretary's [illegible]. Two objects are thus to be reached: first, to counteract the damaging truth now everywhere known, that the delinquent counties are Democratic, and the managers wish to show how earnest and fair they are and so [illegible] that the canvass shall proceed for [illegible] convenience, and thus capture discretion [illegible] the law rests with the canvassing board [illegible], the real object is to ascertain definitely [illegible] of their vote in time to make it up in re[illegible] yet to come in. Returns of several counties, including Polk, which report four or five [illegible] Democratic votes against a baker's [illegible] of Republican, are discreetly held back [illegible]. No other object is recent [illegible]. The State board has yet 15 days [illegible] the expiration of which certainly all the returns will appear. The people will look with [illegible] to see whether such [illegible] custodians of so grave a [illegible] as that which rests with the canvassing board [illegible] Florida. Plain duty and a manly sense of responsibility in the premises will doubtless [illegible] even to the ablest Democrat [illegible] the [illegible] of legal technicalities for reasons [illegible] delay. The question referred to yesterday comes in to-day. Does the law of Florida require the Governor to ascertain and declare the election of presidential electors? The Democrats asked to submit argument on the question and the Governor requested them to do so. Instead of presenting argument they [illegible] to a Democratic circuit judge forty miles distant and get the Governor enjoined from performing a ministerial duty which the law requires at his hands. The plain effort of the Democrats is to enjoin Governor Stearns from performing his duty, and to do this they [illegible] by the supreme judiciary of the State, forty miles into the country to find a Democratic judge whose conscience is elastic enough to serve their party purposes.

TALLAHASSEE, [illegible] The contest begins before Judge White to-morrow when the injunction against the Governor will either be continued or withdrawn and the mandamus against the canvassing board be decided. It is believed the counsel for the Governor will deny the right of the court to issue an injunction against him or else accepting the court's jurisdiction he will elaborately defend his right to canvass the vote. The city is full of strangers from the North. There will doubtless be an appeal from Judge White's decision whatever it may be.

CHICAGO, Nov. 22.—The Tribune's Washington special says: A prominent Republican at Tallahassee writes the national committee, dated 17th: The routine of getting evidence of frauds is well under way. Each train takes our men to the counties to investigate and prepare evidence. Returns now in show Hayes ahead over all frauds which have been very great, but there is danger that the remaining two or three counties may overcome these majorities. So far as the State ticket is concerned the Democrats yesterday attempted to make terms with the canvassing board but failed ignominiously.

South Carolina.

COLUMBIA, Nov. 22.—The Supreme Court to-day issued a peremptory mandamus to the board of State canvassers to issue certificates to members of the State Senate and House of Representatives appearing on the face of the returns to be elected, final contests in these houses to be decided by the members themselves. This gives in the Senate 18 Republicans and 15 Democrats, and in the House 60 Republicans and 64 Democrats—Democratic majority on joint ballot one. The Legislature counts the votes for Governor and Lieut. Governor, and elects a United States Senator. The court has decided to consider other contests separately, and will hear arguments this afternoon as to counting the electoral vote.

COLUMBIA, Nov. 22.—The Board of State canvassers yesterday reported to the Supreme Court, stating candidates who had received the highest vote, also giving a memorandum of the board stating that in their opinion certain irregularities affecting some Republican candidates should be corrected, also the vote of Laurens and Edgefield counties should be excluded on account of frauds and intimidations. This morning the court ordered the board to issue certificates of election to candidates for the legislature shown by the board's report to have the highest votes including Edgefield and Laurens counties. The court to-day issued a rule for the board to show cause why they should not correct statements of county canvassers by the recount returns. Pending these proceedings however the board held a session and issued certificates to all members of the legislature except Laurens and Edgefield counties, thus securing a majority of the legislature Republican, the defeat of Hampton and the election of Chamberlain. The board also issued certificates of election to Republican electors and the Republican State ticket. The board then adjourned sine die. This action has created much excitement, but the citizens will rely on the courts, and exhaust all legal means of redress.

Wade Hampton on the Board of Canvassers.

COLUMBIA, Nov. 22.—General Hampton has just issued the following to the people of South Carolina:

The board of canvassers have by their unprecedented action to-day shown not only their utter disregard of their own official integrity, while the grave questions determining the result of the election were pending before the supreme court, composed of three judges belonging to the Republican party, and in direct violation of their duties this returning board have issued certificates of election to Republican presidential electors and to Republican State officers, and have refused to give certificates to Democratic members of the legislature, shown by returns to the same board to have been elected in the counties of Edgefield and Laurens. This high handed outrage is well calculated to arouse the indignation of our long suffering people, but I assure them that this daring and revolutionary act of the board can have no legal force whatever. I appeal to you therefore in the fullest confidence that the appeal will not be unheeded, that you will maintain even under that provocation your character as orderly and law abiding people. During the past exciting canvass you have studiously avoided the semblance of purpose to disturb the public peace or to transgress the laws. Your cause and its the cause of the constitution and government of the country, has been carried to the highest court of the State and we are willing to abide by its decision, feeling assured this tribunal will see that the laws shall be enforced and justice secured. WADE HAMPTON.

Men-of-War for the South.

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—The Herald's Philadelphia special says two men of war left to-day for the South.

Clarkson N. Porter's Opinion.

Clarkson N. Porter writes the Herald a long letter believing the election sooner or later would go to the House and Tilden be elected.

One Reason for the Concentration of Troops.

The Tribune's Washington special says: Among the many reasons assigned for the hasty and mysterious summoning of troops to Washington and one which has found much credence, is that the government has information of the existence of secret societies in Baltimore sworn to resist by arms the inauguration of Hayes in case he should be elected. Inquiries in that city to-day developed nothing tending to confirm these reports. Republicans and Democrats there discredit them. If such societies exist their members are but few in number and not of a class likely to create any disturbance of the peace more dangerous than a bar room brawl. A good deal of threatening, bitter talk may be heard in the hotels and other public places in that city, but it does not differ in kind or quantity from that of similar places in New York where Democratic politicians assemble.

Hayes to be Inaugurated on Sunday.

The Tribune's Washington special intimates that if Hayes is elected he will probably be inaugurated on the 4th of March, notwithstanding the day falls upon Sunday, because any interim under the circumstances might be fatal to the country.

The Troops at Washington.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—Gen. Barry arrived to-day from Fortress Monroe and is now in command of the U. S. soldiers stationed at Washington. No troops have arrived to-day. General Sherman says none have been ordered to this city except the eight companies and batteries now in the barracks and at the arsenal and navy yard.

A Chance to Withdraw.

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—The privilege of withdrawing bets made on the result of the Presidential election which was [illegible] yesterday by John Morrissey to those of the betting fraternity who had deposited wagers in his hands was taken advantage of by a large number of betting men. Bets were withdrawn by the mutual consent of those making them, Morrissey in every case being allowed to [illegible] the amount [illegible]. Morrissey [illegible] last evening his action had been with the desire of [illegible] during the [illegible] of his patrons who prefer to call their wagers off.

A Democratic Elector Ineligible.

The [illegible] Hartford [illegible] electors because [illegible] that their places [illegible] be [illegible] Ingersoll, one of the Democratic electors of Connecticut, is disqualified by [illegible] holding the position of U. S. commissioner.

Another Ineligible Elector.

KEOKUK, Nov. 22.—The Constitution [illegible] states that it has direct [illegible] that [illegible] Democratic [illegible] elector for the 1st Iowa district was when elected U. S. commissioner and has since resigned.

Ohio Democrats Resolve on the Situation.

COLUMBUS, Nov. [illegible] [illegible] resolutions declaring that patriotism demands a ready acquiescence in the result of the presidential election fairly ascertained, deprecating partisan feeling in the discussion of facts and laws on which the result depends, appealing to the canvassing officers to allay suspicion by open and impartial action, but [illegible] the [illegible] of the Louisiana returning board, demanding that the Senate and House of Representatives exert their constitutional powers to have the fairly elected President inaugurated, declaring the concentration of troops at Washington ill advised and a reflection on the honesty of the people, recommending correspondence among the various Democratic State committees for the purpose of establishing a perfect understanding of facts and concert of action in maintaining the rights of the people. Thos. Ewing, Geo. H. Pendleton, Geo. W. Morgan and others spoke endorsing the resolutions.

THE EASTERN QUESTION

New Turkish Constitution.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Nov. 22.—The commission appointed to form the new Turkish constitution concluded their labors and the document has been sent to the Grand Vizier. It is stated the new constitution will be promulgated before the meeting of the conference of the Powers.

Doubt the Czar's Pacific Expressions.

LONDON, Nov. 22.—The Pall Mall Gazette, Standard and other conservative journals express complete distrust of the Czar's pacific intentions expressed to Lord Loftus, British ambassador to St. Petersburg, in his interview with His Majesty, Nov. 2[illegible].

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. [illegible].—The Czar in receiving distinguished personages during the last few days, has stated that he would still hope for the maintenance of peace, but considered Russia's honor and his own a pledge to obtain the autonomy which he had demanded from the Porte.

Servian Embassadors to the Czar.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 22.—Maronvich, Servian minister of the interior, has been entrusted by Prince Milan with a special mission to the Czar and comes here as confidential agent of the Prince. It is expected that Maronvich will succeed in re-establishing cordial relations between Russia and Servia and will also agree with the Czar about the conditions of Servia's participation in the war should the conference fail to bring peace.

Harbor Closed by Torpedoes.

KERTCH, Nov. 22.—Torpedoes in the harbor are placed loose near the battery and a gunboat has been stationed to conduct vessels through Kertch Straits. Riga is partly obstructed but not entirely closed by ice.

Resignation of Servian Ministers.

SEMLIN, Nov. 22.—The Servian ministers have tendered their resignations; the reason is not known. Prince Milan has not yet accepted their resignations but the ministers persist in their determination.

The Russian Programme.

BRUSSELS, Nov. 22.—Le Nord, the Russian organ, confirms the substantial accuracy of the Russian programme published in its Vienna correspondence. Le Nord adds: This programme is not absolutely infallible, particularly as regards the occupation of Turkish territory.

COLOGNE, Nov. 22.—The Zeitung reports that the proposed Turkish constitution establishes ministerial responsibility and equal rights of persons of all nationalities.

Embargo on Horses.

LONDON, Nov. 22.—A Berlin special says Russia has proposed to the other continental powers a general prohibition of the exportation of horses by all countries.

Exhausted Condition of the Russian Arsenals.

LONDON, Nov. 22.—The Times' Berlin correspondent says: The unprepared state of the Russian arsenals can be imagined from a report in the St. Petersburg Vedomosti that the 100,000,000 roubles which the government is now raising have already been consumed by military expenses. The Russian government has concluded contracts for supplies.

Servian Demands.

A Belgrade telegram says the Servian War Department declare the Servians will claim in proceedings for the settlement of the line of demarcation of several hundred villages on Turkish territory. The exaggerated demand taken in conjunction with the fact that Russia recently made protests in very threatening language concerning alleged breaches of the armistice excites suspicions at Constantinople that a pretext is being sought to bring about a collision whenever suitable.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

Ministerial Crisis in France.

LONDON, Nov. 22.—A dispatch from Paris says that the Left recently introduced in the Chamber of Deputies an interpellation to the ministry asking why the military escort to the funerals of all members of the Legion of Honor are legally entitled has been refused in cases where the deceased has been buried without religious ceremonies. This question is becoming very serious. The Left refuse compromise and it is feared a ministerial crisis may ensue.

Advance in Sugar.

GLASGOW, Nov. 22.—In the sugar market here nearly every description has advanced full 1s per cwt.

Bank of England.

LONDON, Nov. 22.—The amount of bullion withdrawn from the Bank of England on balance to-day £141,000.

Specie for New York.

LONDON, Nov. 22.—Of the bullion withdrawn from the Bank of England to-day [illegible]2,000 were for shipment to New York.

The German Press Law.

BERLIN, Nov. 22.—The Reichstag by a vote of 12[illegible] to 10[illegible] passed the clause of the law courts bill which transfers the trial of press offenses to juries. Prussian and Saxon ministers of justice opposed the clause which is also in opposition to the wishes of the federal council.

Protestant Persecution.

LONDON, Nov. 2[illegible].—A dispatch from Madrid reports that two Protestant ministers, one a citizen of the United States, were recently forbidden to hold religious services by the mayor of the village of [illegible], near the French frontier, in the Province Santander. They were subsequently [illegible] prosecution be[illegible] against them although the prayer meeting they held was conducted according to law and only 18 persons were present.

Specie for America.

The Lick Estate.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 22.—The Lick trustees and Jno. H. Lick's attorneys state that action taken by the other relatives will delay almost concluded promises. Dissatisfied at Mr. Jno. H. Lick's willingness to settle the matter without having recourse to law and nettled at the idea of losing their claimed share of the spoils they will try their hands at forcing a compromise more satisfactory to their own interest. Neither the trustees nor attorneys above mentioned appear to entertain the least fear of the result. The Society of Pioneers have already signified their assent to any action the trustees may take toward a compromise. The Academy of Sciences has appointed a committee to confer with the trustees in the matter. Yesterday afternoon the regents of the University of California held a special meeting with regard to this question and after a lengthy discussion passed the following resolution: "The board of regents are disinclined to make objections to the proposed compromise in regard to the Lick estate, provided the donation to the University of California shall be and remain unimpaired." It will be remembered that the trustees had no intention of making a compromise that would lessen any donation in which the amount was specified and therefore the concurrent action of the regents simply removes any doubt of their interfering with or putting any stumbling block in the way of the trustees.

Kentuck Conquered.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 22.—The contest to-day for control of the Kentuck mine resulted in the election of McDonald—opposition ticket.

The Postal Commission.

Isaac Friedlander was before the postal commission to-day but his evidence was of no especial importance except in that it drew from Mr. Hubbard, chairman of the commission, the remark that people here manifest less interest in the subject than in any other place the commission had visited. To-morrow the commission will make a trip to the end of the North Pacific railroad. Before returning East they will visit Los Angeles and San Diego.

Nothing Wrong in the San Francisco Election.

The finance committee is progressing rapidly with the investigation into alleged election and registration frauds. Nothing has yet been discovered to indicate fraud or carelessness in the assessor's or county clerk's office. The heavy part of the work will probably be finished the day after to-morrow. If inquiry is made regarding naturalization in the courts for thirty days prior to the election some interesting facts may be brought to light.

Inquest into the Sacramento Disaster.

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 21.—The inquest into the cause of the death of the victims of the Moore's Opera House disaster of Saturday was continued to-day and goes on again on Wednesday. The proofs show clearly that the house had the reputation among those competent to judge as an unsafe building. The landlords swore they sent an expert to examine it before leasing it, and received a favorable report. The expert will be the next witness. He refused to appear to-day, and will be brought in on process. Other public buildings are being examined into by the jury.

NEVADA.

Battle of Bruisers.

VIRGINIA, Nov. 22.—The preliminaries of a prize fight between Dublin Pete and Jack Lakews have been settled and the mill will take place to-morrow within ten miles of the city, stakes $250 a side. Lakews is favorite in the pools.

Fire in Albany.

ALBANY, Nov. 22.—About half past four o'clock this morning a fire broke out in Weller's saloon, First street, second door east of Ferry. Immediately this and the corner building occupied by Bourgarde's jewelry store were in a blaze, the flames communicating to the fine two story building of John Briggs adjoining east, the side of which was burned badly. There the fire was checked and under control by the splendid working of one company's hand engine almost before our steamer was warm, so rapid was the spread of the flames and so efficiently did our firemen operate. Asa Peterson loses two one story frame buildings valued at $1,000, insured for $1,100 in Phoenix; Charles Bourgarde's, over $6,000, insured for $3,000 in the Phoenix; Geo. Weller $1,200, insured in the North British for $800. John Briggs damage to building by fire $500, covered by State Investment Co., and damage to stock by water and removal about the same amount insured in Phoenix.

BRITISH COLUMBIA

On Monday the Vancouver Coal Company [illegible] at their two wharves over 800 tons of coal, and during three days of last week [illegible] 2,000 tons of dusky diamonds.

The locomotive and machinery for the Baynes Sound coal mine arrived on Monday last. It was expected that the locomotive would commence running on Friday last. The works at and around the mine are progressing rapidly.

Bernard Fitzpatrick of Colville will take 140 head of beef cattle into Kootenai in the spring; they are now wintering at Bonner's Ferry. Galbraith got in 100 head from Flat Head Lake at a low price. Several parties crossed the mountains to Kootenai this year.

The Fraser River Railroad Company of British Columbia have dissolved its organization, being considered unnecessary in view of the absolute certainty that the Canadian Pacific railroad will pass over the same route that the Fraser river road was intended to traverse.

The new centennial locomotive imported from Philadelphia by Messrs. Dunsmuir, Diggle & Co. to Wellington Colliery, on Wednesday got up steam and proceeded on the track along to Wellington. This locomotive was on exhibition at the Philadelphia Centennial Exposition and was greatly admired.

At a late election in Kootenai, B. C., voters were imported all the way from Walla Walla [illegible] in the choice of a member of the Local Parliament. [illegible] highly [illegible]. The names of several American citizens appear on the list of voters and owing to the absence of a proper law they cannot get the list revised.

Mr. John F. Galbraith, just down from the Kootenai mines, furnishes the following items: Mr. Galbraith left Kootenai on the 2[illegible] of October and was 1[illegible] days on the road. The mines in Kootenai are about the same as in former years, but the country is as yet unprospected and plenty of diggings are known that if worked would [illegible] from $1 to $4 per day. The Government has just [illegible] Wild Horse creek.

EASTERN NEWS.

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

Tilden's Affianced.

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—The Times' special from [illegible] says: A gentleman of standing and undoubted veracity recently arrived here from San Francisco has given currency to a report that Tilden is affianced to Miss Carrie Gwin, a lady about 3[illegible] years of age and daughter of Duke Gwin, formerly a wealthy land owner of Tennessee, U. S. Senator, Confederate sympathizer and Mexican nobleman, now a resident of San Francisco and an active politician. The engagement was made at Saratoga during the stay of Tilden at that place during the summer and while he was preparing his now famous letter of acceptance. The marriage is to be [illegible] upon Tilden's accession to the Presidential chair. Gwin it is said is now in Europe awaiting the counting of the electoral vote.

[illegible] Colliery Vessel Foundered.

BOSTON, Nov. 22.—The harbor pilot last night reported he saw an iron collier of the Philadelphia and Reading railway in distress and suddenly after the vessel sunk out of sight. The collier had on board 1,600 tons of coal and a crew of seventeen men. The report is current in Philadelphia that the steam collier Perkiomen was sunk in Boston harbor. She is doubtless the vessel above alluded to.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 22.—With regard to the reported loss of the steam collier in Boston harbor the Philadelphia and Reading company say steam collier No. 10 is Perkiomen. No mishap has occurred to her as she was off Sandy Hook this morning.

The Franklin Spoken.

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—The steamship Gulf Stream arrived this afternoon and reports having spoken the steamship Franklin to-day 21 miles south of Absecom light, 80 miles from New York. The officers of the Franklin stated all on board were well and in first class condition. There was a heavy gale at the time. Capt. Crowell thought the [illegible] in no hurry to reach New York, but was waiting orders.

Gold and Stocks.

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—Gold 9[illegible]; money 3[illegible]; governments active and steady; stocks active and strong.

Collision at Sea—Vessel Sunk.

AMOY, CHINA, Nov. 21.—The British steamer Leonore and the American brig Francis Lewey from Swatow Sept. 7th for Amoy came in collision, when the latter sank and six of the crew and passengers drowned. The steamer was slightly damaged.

Loss by Fire.

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—The loss by the burning of W. H. Payne & Co.'s grain storage and flour mill last night will reach $125,000.

Fire.

MATTOON, Ill., Nov. 22.—A fire here last night nearly destroyed Dale Bros.' large block, together with its stores and various establishments. Total loss about $70,000, insured nearly two-thirds.

M. E. Church South.

RICHMOND, Nov. 22.—The Virginia conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church South unanimously approved the results of meeting between the commissioners of the Methodist Episcopal Church North and South at Cape May last August, and regard the action of the commissioners as a binding authoritative and final settlement of the question at issue.

Too Late for the Centennial.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 22.—A collection of rare and antique specimens of china and porcelain belonging to the minister of finance of China, which was held by the custom officials at San Francisco and so failed to reach the Centennial, will soon arrive and be taken to New York for exhibition.

Longshoremen on a Strike.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 22.—Striking longshoremen numbering nearly a thousand had a marching display this afternoon. There was no disturbance.

U. S. Senator for North Carolina.

RALEIGH, Nov. 22.—Hon. W. E. Ransom was to-night nominated by the Democratic caucus by acclamation for the senatorship.

Monitors Under Sailing Orders.

NORFOLK, Nov. 22.—The U. S. monitors Wyandotte, Montauk and Passaic under convoy of the U. S. steamer Swatara to-day steamed down to Hampton Roads under orders to be in readiness to sail immediately.

Counterfeiters Arrested.

RICHMOND, Ind., Nov. 22.—Charley Link and Henry Boland, counterfeiters, were arrested this afternoon with $6,000 of excellently done bogus money.

The Peace Policy.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 22.—The associated executive committee of the Orthodox Friends on Indian affairs are now holding a session in this city. The proceedings are very interesting. Reports show progress of the peace policy in Christianizing the Indians.

Vermont Legislature Instructs for Resumption.

MONTPELIER, Nov. 22.—A joint resolution passed the House to-day to instruct Congressmen to use their influence to secure permanent resumption of specie payment as early as January 1878.

Billiards.

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—Maurice Daly was defeated by Joseph Dion this afternoon 115 to 300. This evening Daly defeated Garnier 300 to 18[illegible] and Rudolph beat Cyrille Dion 300 to 16[illegible].

Frost's Proposition Declined.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 22.—Meriditth, Republican candidate for the third district, has declined the proposition of Mr. Frost to refer the matter of their election back to the people.

Indictments Quashed.

Single and joint indictments against Mohn and Linegar for complicity in whisky frauds were either quashed or nolle prosequied in the U. S. District Court this evening.

WASHINGTON CITY

Indian Agent Appointed.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—E. H. Alden has been appointed agent for the Indians of Fort Berthold agency in Dakotah, vice Commissioner Darling resigned.

Report of the Secretary of War.

Secretary Cameron has completed his annual report and gave the President a copy this morning.

Figuring up the National Indebtedness.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—The House committee of appropriations failed to meet to-day on account of the absence of chairman Randall. Estimates of all debts are in possession of the committee except for the deficiency bill and legislative appropriation bill. The estimates call for in round numbers $475,000,000 as against $150,000,000 appropriated at the last session of Congress.

MEXICO.

Another Revolution—"Death to Protestants."

CITY OF MEXICO, Nov. 12.—The political situation is much complicated. Ex Chief Justice Iglesias proclaimed himself Provisional President of the republic at Leon, in the State of Guanajuato, whose legislature and governor sustain him. A portion of Iglesias' escort to Leon attacked the American missionaries crying "Death to Protestants," but were driven off by the police. Two ex judges of the supreme court have joined Iglesias, who has a regular cabinet and foreign ministers. Troops are marching on Guanajuato and it is expected Iglesias will flee shortly as no other State aids him. Lerdo de Tejada receives offers of support from all parts of the country. On the 29th of October advices reached Mexico that Apizaco had been evacuated by the revolutionists upon the approach of government troops. Some fighting occurred but there are no particulars. Mr. Foster, U. S. minister, has arrived at Mexico.

WEST INDIES.

The Doings of Campos.

HAVANA, Nov. 2[illegible].—Nothing whatever is known about the plans of General in Chief Martinez Campos. Some assert the General has warned the newspapers not to publish anything without special permission. He is paying a flying visit in the town called Cinco Villas, where it is reported he summarily dealt with subjected and convicted insurgents. It is reported he has ordered a number shot in Cienfuegos. He expects to clear Cinco Villas of rebels in two months and will then pursue them beyond Latrocha. Last Thursday while General Campos was on a railroad train between Sagua and Las Cruces the car containing his equipage and ammunition was burned. Suspected Cubans are arrested daily.

A Paris landlord not being able to squeeze rent out of one of his tenants, recently made a visit to the fifth floor and caught him in the act of concealing something under the table cloth. The poor lodger finally yielded to threats and showed the landlord a bank note of fifty francs which he had been copying. "You scoundrel," said the landlord, "are you running the risk of the gallows for a miserable sum of fifty francs?" "Ah, Monsieur," whined the lodger, "I am entirely of your opinion. It is [illegible] sum to forge."

THE GROWTH OF OREGON

The following article, clipped from the New York Daily Bulletin, adds to the evidence that Oregon is of late becoming a little better appreciated at the East, while the allusion to Puget Sound as a part of this State, shows at the same time that this northwest coast has not yet attracted sufficient attention on the Atlantic side to cause even the more intelligent to inform themselves accurately as to the geography of the country.

Extracts from the biennial official reports recently submitted to the Oregon Legislature go to show a development of business interests in that State during the past two years, which to say the least, indicate a spirit of enterprise that must in time bring this State forward to no mean degree of prominence in the commercial world. And a feature of special note is that the development has not been caused by artificial stimulus in any branch of trade, but is the gradual and steady growth, as only can be in an agricultural country. At the close of the fiscal year there was under cultivation 595,629 acres of land, on which was produced during 1874 about 5,251,102 bushels of wheat, 2,083,000 bushels of oats, 280,708 of barley, 117,368 of rye, 86,728 of corn, 28,187 lbs tobacco, 1,175,254 bushels of apples, and 627,820 of potatoes. Comparing these figures with the bureau of statistics returns, we find an increase as compared with 1870, of 2,916,300 bushels, over 100 per cent.—in wheat; [illegible]3,177 do in oats, 73,000 do in barley; 113,473 in rye, 24,000 in corn, 24,340 lbs in tobacco and a proportionate increase in the minor farm products. The production of tobacco, though not of large proportions compared with the grain crops, assumes a prominent position, the amount raised in 1870 having been insignificant, while at the present time it is a business of considerable importance. The production of rye has also sprung up since 1870. As naturally follows a vast augmentation of ground crops, the amount of live stock shows a material increase. In 1870 there were 110,197 head of cattle, while for 1875 the total is 270,406. Then of horses there is an increase of 24,231 and other live stock in proportion. Though the year was an unfavorable one to the marketing of wool, we find that the crop was greater than that of 1870 by nearly 785,000 pounds. Dairy products have been slow, as the market for them is limited at present. However, there was 137,000 pounds more butter made than in 1870, and 117,661 pounds more of cheese. The Columbia river fisheries yielded 4,818 bbls and 80,000 cases of salmon during the year, the value of exports which is placed at $2,000,000 at least. The assessed value of all property is placed at $41,436,666, as against [illegible] in 1870. The population in 1875 was 104,920 whites and about 16,000 Indians and Chinese. This shows an increase of white population during the past five years of nearly 15,000 souls.

Though showing only the growth of agricultural wealth these figures speak well for our distant sister State, and we do not doubt but that if the value of the Puget Sound lumber trade, the shipbuilding interest and other industries were made known the apparent increase would be much greater. The lack of ample railway facilities is an impediment in the way of a more rapid extension of trade, so that there is yet room for as much improvement in the next five years as there was in the past.

THE HOG CROP AND ITS CENTER.—Chicago has now a pork-packing capacity of 50,000 hogs a day, and expects to pack more than half the Western hog crop during 1876-7, counting both summer and winter. She packed, last year, about 1,600,000 to 560,000 at Cincinnati, which used to be the great pork center. The average difference in temperature between Chicago and Cincinnati is greatly in favor of the former, necessitating as it does a losing season every few years at the more southerly point. The corn area has been moving northward. It is rather remarkable that the Bureau of Agriculture reports a steady decrease in the hog crop for three years, the number in all the States being estimated at 25,700,000 in January, 1876, as against 30,800,000 in January, 1874. This decrease is mostly in the Western States, and due to shorter crops, probably. The pork-packers do not expect any advantage from a war between Russia and Turkey, though they have of late been making heavy shipments to Greece. Three-fourths of the pork products exported now go to the continent, instead of to England as formerly. The prospect of the trade is not flattering, and a Chicago packer who is putting away 5,000 hogs a day says that pork is higher than anything else, and has got to come down, and that even in Chicago packers have not made any money the past year.

HE BET IN HIS MIND.—A short time ago, remarks the Vicksburg Herald, the steamer Lee, in making her trip from New Orleans, had her full complement of passengers. As they walked about listlessly, and were apparently ennuied, they listened willingly to a suggestion from an individual who owned a monte bank that, just to pass away time, they should buck at monte. The dealer found a table handy, and opened his bank. In a short time the most of the company were engaged in the game. After it had progressed a while, a rough looking stranger, who was closely watching the game, handed to the dealer a five dollar piece. The dealer, surprised, asked what he had done so, when he was told that he (the stranger) had lost it fairly, as he had bet, in his mind, on the queen. After several deals the stranger gave the dealer ten dollars, making a statement similar to the first, whereupon the banker pocketed the money, thinking he had found a lunatic.

After a short time had elapsed the passengers, startled by a most terrific yell, looked in wonder and alarm at the contortions of the stranger who, jumping about the group, cried out at every jump:

"I've won! I've won! I've won!"

"Won what?" asked the banker.

"Why I've won $250. I bet in my mind, on the cavalier and he won. Hand over the money."

As the banker had permitted him to lose when betting in his mind, he had to pay him the money. The stranger received the money and also a request to be more audible in his bets.

A CUSTOM HOUSE FIEND.—Vivier, the eccentric Frenchman who has made it the business of his life to worry the Custom House inspectors of all European countries, has returned to France. His wont formerly was to pack a huge trunk full of trowsers straps, such as are worn with gaiters, using hydraulic pressure if were necessary to cram five bushels into a three bushel space, then lure the inspector to open it as suspicious package, when naturally the contents were overset and the whole force of the Custom House was occupied in putting them back. A powerful Jack in the box was another device of his that was very success[illegible] latest perfo[illegible]

THURSDAY MORNING NOV 23 1876

RESORTING TO THE COURTS

It was reported yesterday evening on what appeared to be reliable authority that the Democratic managers had applied to Judge Boise of the Third Judicial District for an order restraining the issuance of a certificate of election to Dr Watts as Presidential elector on the ground of his alleged incompetency to receive the appointment and that a temporary order had been granted. This indicates that the managers have at last got their eyes open to the fact that the Governor and Secretary of State have no power to inquire into the qualifications of persons voted for, that power being vested solely in the courts. It is a pleasure to see that the revolutionary measures talked of a few days since are not to be carried out and that the managers are disposed to recognize the constitutional authority of the courts. The questions involved are now in the right channel for settlement, at any rate, so that the people can have assurance that whatever may be the result, it will not be reached by trampling the laws of the land under foot. The case will present a variety of questions. Is Dr Watts incompetent to act as elector having resigned his postoffice? If not are the votes cast for him to be regarded simply as null and void, or are they to be counted as against the Democratic candidates? If Watts cannot take the office, does Cronin, the highest Democratic candidate, get it, provided he will consent? If not, does there exist such a vacancy as can be filled by the other two electors? These are questions which present themselves at the door of the case, and it is safe to calculate that every one of them will multiply itself by five or ten before the end comes.

OREGON AT HEADQUARTERS

The New York Herald of the next morning after the election contained a graphic account of the scene at Republican Headquarters as the news came in on the evening of the election day. It was a lively occasion. Excitement ran high, and the alternating hopes and fears of those in attendance, as the reports from various States came in, found expression in language often more forcible than elegant, and were vividly depicted in the countenances of the crowd. The scene at receipt of the first direct intelligence from Oregon is thus described:

"At about half-past 7 o'clock a dispatch was received from United States Senator Corbett, of Oregon, stating that that State had unquestionably gone from 500 to 1,000 majority for the Republicans. The cheers that greeted this dispatch were simply deafening, and were continued for fully five minutes."

Another day has passed and we are still apparently as far from the end of the suspense over the Presidential election as ever. At least, we know no more as to what the result is likely to be. Announcement is made that it will take a week to count the vote of Louisiana. If it is the intention of the board of canvassers to investigate the charges of fraud with any tolerable degree of thoroughness they may as well give themselves still more time, for a week will pass before they will have fairly begun. If frauds have been committed on either side, upon a scale of magnitude half as great as is charged by the adverse party, the board will find itself short of time if it attempted to expunge all the fraudulent votes, even though it set no limit to its sessions except that which the law imposes by requiring the vote for President to be cast on the second Wednesday of December.

The boot is on the other foot this time. Ingersoll, one of the Democratic Electors of Connecticut, it transpires is a United States Commissioner, and therefore ineligible to the office of elector. If Dr Watts must be rejected then Ingersoll must be rejected. That still leaves the Republicans one majority in the Electoral College counting Louisiana and Florida, both of which they must have in any event in order to elect.

CARD FROM MR. LAMB

PORTLAND, Nov 22, 1876

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

This evening's Standard asserts that certain political telegrams sent through the Salem office were known to other parties as soon as by the persons to whom the messages were addressed, hints foul play and suggests an investigation. I would suggest to the editor of the Standard, the advisability of making some direct charge that can be investigated. I can assure him that any such charge will receive immediate attention, and no favor will be shown to the party in fault be he Republican or Democrat. The Western Union Telegraph Company makes no attempt to coerce the political opinions of its employes, but insists upon their observing strict silence concerning the contents of any telegram political or otherwise. Will the Standard kindly drop its innuendoes which may seriously injure an innocent man and produce its facts if it has any.

F. H. LAMB, Dist. Supt W. U. T. Co.

HONORS TO OREGON FRUIT GROWERS

The following letters have been received by the gentlemen to whom they are respectively addressed:

PHILADELPHIA Nov 8 1876

SETH LUELLING & SON—Gentlemen: I have the pleasure of informing you that you have been awarded three medals and diplomas on the exhibit of your fruit. I will endeavor to have arrangements made for an "official report," and medals with diplomas forwarded before my return. Yours respectfully

A. J. DUFUR, Com'r for Oregon

PHILADELPHIA Nov 8 1876

J. H. LAMBERT Esq—Dear Sir: I have the pleasure of informing you that you have been awarded medal and diploma on your exhibit of fruit. I will endeavor to make arrangements to have an official report with diploma and medal forwarded to you before I leave Philadelphia. Yours respectfully

A. J. DUFUR, Com'r for Oregon

NEW YORK VS PHILADELPHIA

SALEM Nov [illegible]

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

You suggest that there was fraudulent registration by the Democrats in Philadelphia. I clip the following paragraph from the Springfield Republican of a day or two before the election. The Republican is independent but supported Hayes:

"The registration frauds in Republican Philadelphia prove greater than in Democratic New York. Already 20,000 fictitious names have been stricken off the lists [illegible]"

TILDEN

The first annual ball given by [illegible] Engine Co No [illegible] will be held at the Opera House, Albany on Thursday evening Dec 7th 1876, and judging from the persons who have been selected to engineer it we are sure it will be a great success.

Two well known lawyers of Umatilla county are reported to have [illegible] the other day.

CHURCH MUSIC

The Rev Morgan Dix the Rector of Trinity Church New York publishes an article in the October number of the American Church Review on the subject of "Church Music." The paper is a very readable and instructive one and deals a timely and effective blow at the petty, melodious platitudes, musical extravaganzas and vocal intricacies which are served up as garnish to the usual Sunday service in the average American church. By way of prelude to the subject the writer calls attention to the condition of American music in general, in the course of which he gives the following pithy abbreviation of Norman McLeod's apt and eloquent characterization of the music of all nations:

Irish Music—The struggle of a buoyant merry heart to get quit of thoughts that often lie too deep for tears. It is the music of an oppressed, conquered but deeply feeling, impressible, fanciful and generous people. It is for the harp in Tara's Halls.

Scotch Music—A bonnie lassie with her plaid, among the braes of Yarrow, waking the sleep that is among the lonely hills with some tale of love, domestic sorrow, or of the flowers of the forest, a wede awa.

Highland Music—The pibroch: the music of the past and gone of lonely lakes, castellated promontories with superstitions, and of a feudal glory and a language of romance and song which have fled on their dim wings from Morven, [illegible] deep sorrow checked by lofty pride.

German Music—The music of the intellect and thought, passion modified by high imagination. It is essentially Gothic, vast and grand. * * The shadow of the Brocken is over it, the solemn sound of the Rhine and the Danube pervade it.

French Music—A dashing cavalry officer on his way to fight or to make love.

Italian Music—A lovely woman breathing from her soul, under the influence of one deep and strong passion, beneath a summer midnight sky amidst the ruins of ancient Roman grandeur. It is immensely sensuous.

Spanish Music—A hot night disturbed by a quiet air.

American Music—"Yankee Doodle."

The writer then declares that under "the burlesque and satire of this droll winding up there lies more truth than the affronted patriot may be disposed to admit," and in support of this suggestion says—"What is American music? What is really popular? What is thoroughly relished by the community? What sells best? What enriches its authors? What draws the people by thousands and tens of thousands? Eliminate the classical and foreign elements, the oratorios, the opera, the symphony, the sonata, and come down to the indigenous production, and what is the residuum? We arrive at a sprouty growth of little sing-song tunes, having a kind of sentimental savor, or a certain briskness and elation, and set to words in keeping with the lightness of the composition, we come to a school of music represented on its secular side by the lay of the negro minstrel, the patriotic melodies in vogue during the recent war, and the maudlin ditties about the moon, the beautiful sea, etc, etc, and on its religious side by Sankey's 'Gospel Hymns.'"

Speaking of these latter he says—"their attractiveness lies, not in sacredness or strength, but in the pretty turn of the tune and the effect produced when, as at the Hippodrome, they are sung by a great many people together. The prodigious number of the singers shows at once the earnestness of their interest and the wretched state of their musical taste and knowledge. With a view to get at the secret of the Moody and Sankey songs I made a careful study of them, and was easily able to trace them to their origin. Some thirty or forty years ago, before the Italian Opera had been introduced in this country, the music most in vogue was of the ballad and parlor song school. Some of those compositions were exceedingly agreeable: for instance the sweet old songs, 'Farewell to Thee,' 'Araby's Daughter,' 'The Leaf and the Fountain,' 'The Rose and the Nightingale,' 'The Soldier's Tear,' 'A Place in thy Memory, Dearest,' and others of that ilk. These melodies of other days, or such as these, long since forgotten, have been revived, with all their characteristics and with the old method of construction, and now adapted to sentimental and subjective verselets, expressive of the tone of modern religionism, they are sung and sung, and sung, in hippodromes and in gospel tents, and in parlors and boarding houses, on Sunday evenings under the name of 'Sacred Gospel Hymns.'"

Further on the writer discusses the chaotic state of American church music as compared with that of other countries. Upon this point he stirs us up in the following first rate style:

"Now the first thing that strikes us is the lack of unity. There is no dominant influence. Individual caprice rules, regardless of precedent, history, or law of any sort; every one does what is right in his own eye and will have that sung which is pleasant in his own ears, and so as tastes differ greatly and as every congregation has one or more [illegible] at the business no one can tell, in going from church to church what he will find there. It is not so in other places; it would not be so among us if we had a national accompaniment to Divine service as worthy of respect and veneration and as dear to our hearts as the services themselves. That is what other communions enjoy. To hear German chorales you must go to Germany, and if you go to church in Germany you are certain to hear German chorales. At Bremen, at Dresden, at Nuremberg and wherever else I went in recent travel I always heard to my great delight in Evangelical churches the same ancient melodies, the same noble harmonies; there saw the people singing, all together, old and young, boys and men, women and maidens, just what their forefathers had been singing for three hundred years and more. In the Roman Catholic churches also there was [illegible] the same rich music, the same [illegible] vocal plainsong, the same tender [illegible] of [illegible], all chiming together a music which [illegible] sound and [illegible] of ages and ages of Christian worship. But what is to be expected in our churches? No one knows what to expect; it depends upon the constitution of the music committee, or the whim of the clergyman, or the appetite of the audience. The traveler desirous of investigating the American school of music will find in one church a quartette choir, performing one knows not what medley of airs, with mysterious evolutions and convolutions, with execution and excruciation apt to charm the ear of the excitement loving listeners; in another a chancel full of men and boys rendering crudely and harshly the English cathedral [illegible], while some resolute but uneducated able clergyman with little voice and less knowledge intones in a way to drive the hearer wild. Farther on he will come upon a sextett or octett interpreting the truly original works of some imitator of the modern French or Italian school; anon elsewhere he will be saluted with the dull congregational drone of the Sicilian Hymn or Old Hundred, and still further he will come in upon a self satisfied and pert set of people warbling Bliss's or Sankey's songs. No one can foretell on approaching an open church door the things that await him within. We have the Anglican school and the Lowell Mason school, the Italian school and the French, the Gregorian school and the Hippodrome school, the high and dry, the [illegible], the severely Protestant, [illegible] of the Evangelical and other types."

We close our extracts with the following graphic description of the ludicrous effects of the musical antics and incongruities which so often obtrude themselves into the worship of God:

"Who is the fortunate clergyman who does not know how it feels to have to stand at reading desk or stall facing the congregation, so much the worse; to stand, I say, for ten or fifteen minutes mute and miserable, with the congregation also mute glaring at him while the choir performed some incredible fantastic composition with chorus, bass solo, soprano solo, duet of soprano and tenor, duet of alto and soprano, trio of soprano, tenor and bass, and Heaven knows what other refinements of torture? So have I stood, my eyes riveted to the book, mumchance, doing nothing and having nothing to do, ashamed to look up, afraid to move, cursing the day that brought me to such a position. Or else the horrors come in some other or newer shape, as for example when the clergyman finds himself in a chancel with an organ chamber adjoining it and the choir in part composed of women close behind him on the level of the chancel, in full view of the people, and divided from the holy precincts only by a light screen or by the backs of the sedilia; and then the service proceeds thus: All sing, there is a grand chorus, then all take their seats except the soprano, who with many graces carols her part; she then sits down rustling, adjusts her bonnet and fans herself gently; next uprises a great German basso profundo and with awful accent begins to growl the words:

De glorious gombanee of de Apostulish braise De [illegible]

After which an alto, contralto and tenor come up smiling and proceed, and so forth, till the poor priest, compelled to wait in silent resignation until it is all over, feels himself a mere tool and baby in the midst of this operatic bedlam, as if the church and her services were not his but theirs and as if his part were altogether unimportant and insignificant." D

CITY.

INDIAN COMMISSION.—Tuesday evening a [illegible] of the Board of Indian Commission [illegible] appointed by Government to proceed to [illegible] and hold a conference with Chief [illegible] and, if possible, effect an adjustment [illegible] existing difficulties with regard to the [illegible] of Willowa Valley, returned to the [illegible]. Those returning were Hon Wm Stick[illegible], Hon. A. E. Barstow and Col H Clay [illegible]. The other two members of the [illegible] O O Howard and Hon D H [illegible] went over to Yakima reservation and will not return to the city for several days. Col. Wood acted as secretary of the Board, and is now engaged in the preparation [illegible] report which in due time will be submitted to the Department. This report will embody the result of the Board's [illegible] conclusions reached by the con[illegible] held with Chief Joseph suggestions and recommendations etc. As yet we have [illegible] able to obtain any information as to what has been accomplished by the Board looking toward an amicable and permanent [illegible] of the trouble, the members of the Commission preferring for the present to keep their own counsel. The people of East[illegible] and Washington Territory have [illegible] to hope that the action of the Board will be final, that the difficulty has [illegible] on a satisfactory basis—either the Indian's claim to Wallowa Valley [illegible] extinguished by purchase on the part of the government, or that they have been [illegible] and undisputed possession of the [illegible]. In either event there will be no more [illegible] the part of the Indians and no [illegible] a semi hostile attitude on [illegible] or imagined provocation. If the [illegible] settled—and it ought [illegible] done on any other basis—then there [illegible] no more occasion for future anxiety [illegible] of outbreaks.

A LOST CHILD.—Last evening a little girl, [illegible] six years, was found on the streets [illegible] John D Biles' children crying bitterly [illegible] as to the cause of her distress, the [illegible] said that she was lost and could not [illegible] way home. She accompanied the [illegible] to their home and when Mr Biles [illegible] the little wanderer told her [illegible] a week ago she came down [illegible] Walla in company with a Mrs [illegible] in this city. Day before [illegible] she went to school—she says she [illegible] Central school. She was a total [illegible] in Portland but after school was dis[illegible] girl whose acquaintance she [illegible] showed her house. Last evening [illegible] to reach her new home but [illegible] her way and wandered about for some [illegible] became completely bewildered. [illegible] girl says her name is Lorena May [illegible] stopping with Mr. Bries family [illegible] Fourth and C streets. We publish [illegible] the benefit of Lorena's friends [illegible] are very anxious to learn of [illegible].

[illegible] SOCIETY.—This is the name [illegible] society organized some time ago [illegible] students attending the State [illegible] at Eugene. Last Friday evening [illegible] of this "glorious" nation was an[illegible]. The question, "Does the present [illegible] of public affairs portend the downfall [illegible] Republic?" was vigorously [illegible] by this society, Mr J L. Wortman [illegible] of the affirmative and Mr H. F. [illegible] of the negative side. [illegible] question was decided affirm[illegible] may now consistently [illegible] to retire to private life [illegible]. The following are the offi[illegible] society: J L. Wortman, presi[illegible] E. Porke, vice president; T C. Jud[illegible], G. A. Dorris, treasurer; C A [illegible]; H. E. McGinn, sergeant at [illegible].

[illegible] PARTY.—At the residence of Mr [illegible] J. W Going last evening occurred [illegible] of the most pleasant parties taking place [illegible] this season. It was gotten up by [illegible], Miss Minnie, on the occasion [illegible] second anniversary of her pa[illegible] and it certainly was not an [illegible] reminder of the time when they [illegible] on the matrimonial sea. A large [illegible] of friends were present and the hours [illegible] sped swiftly by while the crowd [illegible] the music, the merry conversation, [illegible] and more substantial refresh[illegible] the inner man with unusual relish [illegible] home wishing the host and [illegible] a voyage to the end as [illegible] having on this part of the journey.

[illegible] MRS MACLEAY.—The community [illegible] yesterday forenoon and pangs of [illegible] experienced by the numerous [illegible] Mrs. Donald Macleay when the sad [illegible] was sorrowfully made that [illegible] lady was no more. In the few [illegible] she had resided in Portland Mrs [illegible] won a host of friends by her [illegible] kindness to all and her earnestness in [illegible] work. We are sure that her [illegible] husband and little ones have the [illegible] sympathy of all who know them an[illegible] human sympathy is unavailing to [illegible] their grief in such an hour yet none [illegible] is all that condolence which mortals [illegible] tendered to the stricken ones.

[illegible]—George T Reid, of the 'Cale[illegible] opposite the Bank of British Colum[illegible] a bottle in which is full rigged ship [illegible] vessel having been forced into [illegible] not blown over it as is commonly [illegible]. In addition to this are a necklace [illegible] by the Fiji Islanders, a sea horse, a stone [illegible] in which are imbedded garnet [illegible] and the backbone of a shark. Reid is [illegible] hunter, sure enough.

[illegible]—The Amateur Musical Society [illegible] strengthened by the addition [illegible] in the orchestra. Rehear[illegible] held more frequently of late in order [illegible] more perfectly manipulate the difficult se[illegible] that are to be produced on the even[illegible] of their first subscription concert, an[illegible] come off at Masonic Hall on the [illegible].

[illegible]'s CLUB.—An informal meeting of [illegible] of the above club was held last [illegible] at Police Court room at 8 o'clock. No [illegible] was transacted of any importance [illegible] was determined to hold a regular meet[illegible] next Saturday evening at the same place. All [illegible] are expected to be in attendance.

SNAGGED AND SUNK.

THE O. S. N. CO.'S SPLENDID STEAMER DAISY AINSWORTH RUNS AFOUL A REEF OF ROCK AT THE UPPER CASCADES AND [illegible] FEARED WILL PROVE A TOTAL WRECK.

Telegraphic intelligence reached this city early yesterday morning that the O S N Co's large and elegant steamer Daisy Ainsworth had run on on a sunken reef of rock a very short distance above the upper landing at the Cascades and sunk. For several weeks past the O S N Co has been shipping large numbers of cattle from The Dalles directly through to Astoria, where they are slaughtered and canned by Kinney Bros. As the Daisy Ainsworth is capable of accommodating a large number of cattle that boat has been used and the Idaho retained to bring down the passengers, mail and way freight.

Yesterday morning the Daisy Ainsworth left The Dalles at 2 o'clock bound for the Cascades. She had on board 202 head of cattle besides considerable other freight. The steamer Fanny Hayward was lying at the Lower Cascades to convey the cattle down to Astoria. The Daisy made a quick run down the river, arriving at the Upper Cascades at about 3:30 A. M. When the steamer reached her destination it was still very dark and a heavy cloud of fog rested upon the bosom of the river. Capt McNulty, the experienced river pilot, remained behind to bring down the Idaho while the Daisy was entrusted to a Mr Speller, a man who has run for a long time on the Upper Columbia and is well acquainted with the nature of the channel. In endeavoring to effect a landing, Speller was misled owing to the darkness and fog, and venturing a little too near a sunken reef of rocks struck about midship. A large hole was stove in her hull. Immediately after striking, the boat swung round and settled down crosswise to the current. The great weight caused the hog chains to part, thus allowing each end of the boat to sink below the water line, the middle resting on the reef. At that point the current runs with great swiftness, pouring around the bow and stern while the center of the craft is in a strong eddy. The guards on the upper side are several feet under water.

Soon after the Daisy struck it was determined to turn the cattle overboard, a few at a time, and let them take their chances of reaching the shore. By relieving the boat as quickly as possible of the weight it was thought there would be less liability of further damage and enable her to be extricated with greater ease. This was done but as the current is powerful, a great many of the poor cattle were borne down over the rapids and perished below. When the Idaho reached the Cascades, Capt. McNulty deemed the undertaking fraught with too much danger to bring that boat alongside the disabled one in order to take off the freight owing to the swiftness of the current. From the present condition of the Daisy it is feared that she will prove a hopeless wreck.

On receipt of the news John Holland the chief builder for the company and a large force of men started for the scene with all possible haste on the Jone McNear. If possible the damaged boat will be got off. The Daisy Ainsworth is the largest and by odds the finest boat owned by the O S N Co and should she prove a wreck the loss will fall quite heavily on the company. Fortunately, the disaster was attended with no loss of life.

BRIEF NOTES.

How's Louisiana?

Mud, muddier, muddiest.

"Merry Christmas" is coming.

Again the gentle showers descend.

"Close the Shutters" is the latest song.

The river is up and the channel is deep.

The fair and ball season is near at hand.

Now's the time to raffle for your turkeys.

Gold dotted veils are the very latest agony.

This day one week we will all be thankful.

No stars visible last night in the firmament.

State Circuit Court will convene this morning at 9 o'clock.

Large quantities of potatoes are being shipped to the Sound.

Still the all-important, all absorbing question remains undecided.

A large number of persons are waiting to purchase their Salt River tickets.

The steamer Geo W. Elder will sail to day from San Francisco for Portland.

We hear no more about the spelling mania which was all the rage last year.

Who is the coming man is one of those things which no fellow can find out.

The steamer Daisy Ainsworth is the finest and most valuable boat owned by the O S N Co.

We are waiting anxiously for good news before hanging our banner on the outer wall.

Owing to the death of Mrs Macleay the house of Corbitt & Macleay was closed yesterday.

White & Arlington will give a performance at Oregon City to morrow instead of Saturday evening.

The evening cotemporary says that two captains belonging to the ships now in port were roped in, doped and carried away empty.

Geo McDonald, an old offender, was arraigned yesterday morning in Police Court on a charge of drunkenness. He was sent below for 10 days.

The children are already talking about hanging up their stockings and looking with anxious peepers for the annual visit of old Santa Claus.

Mr W W Spaulding, the butcher, has received a large number of splendid hogs from Walla Walla which will be slaughtered and converted into bacon.

Mr W S Thompson has completed making necessary repairs to the line between Portland and Astoria and will soon rejoin his old position on the Sound.

Quinn's P O on the Columbia is the nearest point on the river to Beaver's [illegible] on Klaskanine Slough. It is 70 miles from Portland and 40 from Astoria.

The election is not yet decided and the cheerful tramp doesn't know whether he will live on mince pie and turkey or browse around soup houses as usual.

A number of gentlemen from Salem are in the city to be in attendance at the trial of W W Moreland vs Marion county, which will be tried to day in the U S Circuit Court.

THE BONANZA.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

I like the theory of your correspondent "Ochocoian" about the soap well lately discovered in Wasco county. The idea that thousands of years ago a big iceberg, in its travels ground some quartz rock into powder which powder was carried to its present location partly on top of the ground and partly by a subterranean creek, is so good that nobody but a practical [illegible] would ever have thought of it. However, [illegible] may be mistaken [illegible] his theory and I will advance another.

Is it unreasonable to suppose that a certain chemical action has taken place in a quartz ledge which has dissolved certain parts of the rock into a pulpy state and the chemical action having no power over the [illegible] contained in the rock the same is left in [illegible].

This theory seems plausible for two [illegible]. First the wells are situated in an [illegible] country and it is said that the [illegible] that several [illegible] springs [illegible] hot springs [illegible] in their vicinity. Second [illegible] residuum [illegible] the pulp when viewed under [illegible] microscope is found to be full of the [illegible] metal.

THE DISPUTED STATES.

PORTLAND, Nov 18 1876.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

Your statement of the notorious "Plaquemine fraud" perpetrated in Louisiana in 1844 by which Clay was robbed of the electoral vote of that State might properly be followed with a recital of other transactions of the Louisiana Democracy. All eyes are turned to the three disputed States and especially to Louisiana. Democratic papers teem with charges of fraud against their opponents and grow indignant at the mere suggestion that their alleged right to the three States should be questioned. That party just now assumes a great deal of virtue. It must suppose that other people have short memories. As Clay was robbed of the vote of Louisiana in 1844 when it was supposed to be necessary to do this to beat him, so by a greater conspiracy and larger fraud Grant was robbed of the vote of the State in 1868. That year the vote as returned was 80,225 for Seymour and 33,[illegible] for Grant. Here is the vote of certain parishes as manufactured by those same innocents who now claim the State:

	Grant	Sey
Bienville	1	1,[illegible]
Bossier	1	1,[illegible]
Caddo	1	[illegible]
Calcasieu	[illegible]	[illegible]
Claiborne	[illegible]	[illegible]
De Soto	0	1,[illegible]
Franklin	0	1,[illegible]
Lafayette	0	[illegible]
Morehouse	1	[illegible]
Sabine	[illegible]	[illegible]
St Landry	1	[illegible]
Union	1	1,[illegible]
Vermillion	1	[illegible]
Washington	[illegible]	[illegible]
Total in 14 parishes	18	[illegible]

In several other parishes the showing was almost as shamelessly fraudulent as in those above named. In the present election according to telegraphic advices this same game has been repeated. Parishes are again reported as casting but a single Republican vote and some none at all. In 1868 the canvassers threw out the manifestly fraudulent returns from many of the parishes and put in the table such unofficial returns as they could get in season. By this action the fraud was partially defeated but Seymour was still declared to have a majority.

Had the Presidential election in 1868 depended on Louisiana as it does now the mountainous fraud of that year would not have been permitted to effect the purpose intended. The people of the United States would not have borne the outrage. By Tweed's and Tilden's prodigious frauds in New York that State was also carried for Seymour. The plot to win the election this year by repeating the methods of 1868 in New York and Louisiana is more nearly successful because Connecticut and Indiana are now carried for the Democratic candidates. Telegraphic reports indicate that Democratic practices in Louisiana this time are similar to those of 1868 though perhaps not so general, owing to more limited opportunity.

Has the Democratic party done equity that it should seek equity? Three several times it has resorted to wholesale frauds in Louisiana and twice in New York in the effort to seize the general government. One the fraud was unnecessary for they had enough without Louisiana though they could not foreknow it; once it failed utterly for both Louisiana and New York could not save them. Now at the third of these attempts, when they see the prize so nearly in their grasp they gnash their teeth with savage rage because those who are set upon by these tactics of the highway show a resolute purpose to resist instead of a timid willingness to stand and deliver.

Of the Southern States several are as certainly Republican as Vermont and Iowa if fair elections were permitted. Louisiana is one of these. The electoral vote of Mississippi has been stolen for Tilden, so has that of Alabama. And now the Democratic party is disturbing the peace because their opponents object to a like method with the electoral votes of Louisiana, Florida and South Carolina.

Were it not for the protection afforded by the general government no Republican organization would be possible in the Southern States. At this juncture, if the Southern Democracy were not restrained by the presence of troops and the constant adjurations of their fellow partisans at the North who perceive that resort to violence would blast all their hopes, they would murder every board of canvassers that stands between them and the fulfillment of their designs. It may be said that this is a wanton allegation. But the Hamburg, Coushatta and Colfax massacres are not forgotten. Nor is it beyond the reach of memory that a constitutional convention assembled at New Orleans to provide Louisiana a form of government based on the principle of equal rights for all was attacked and massacred by those who claim now to have carried the State for Tilden and Hendricks and "peace and reform." Foremost to rebel and plunge the country into a costly and bloody war because they had lost an election were these same Democrats of Louisiana and South Carolina a few years ago. Checkmated now apparently in their scheme to overwhelm rightful Republican majorities by murder, intimidation, stuffing ballot-boxes and destroying returns from Republican localities, they set up a cry for sympathy and exclaim against persecution.

If only such legitimate means of political influence as are employed in Maine, California and Oregon were used in the Southern States not only the three now in dispute but certainly three, and perhaps five more would be unquestionably Republican. It is ridiculous to allege that any considerable number of colored men would willingly vote Democratic. There is human nature in negroes and they know that it was Republicans who gave them the right to vote and that Democrats resisted from the first and still object to their right to vote at all. The real grievances of the Southern Democrat is against the negro as a voter. Bitterly do the Democrats of the South feel that it is the ballot in the hands of the blacks and that alone that makes a formidable opposition party possible among them. They who a few years since essayed to establish a Confederacy based on the eternal subordination of the colored man as a slave, chafe continually at his presence as a political factor thwarting their will.

DISSOLUTION OF COPARTNERSHIP

The copartnership existing between Joe Oppenheimer and Henry Ackerman, better known as Ackerman's Dollar Store, will be dissolved January 1, 1877. It is imperatively necessary that our stock be disposed of before that time. It being a very large and complete one comprising all the main elegant Holiday Presents, Crockery, Glass and Fine Plated Ware, it will be readily seen that great sacrifices must be made to dispose of it all within the time set.

The attention of the public and especially of dealers throughout the State, is called to the above.

Whatever unusual movement in trade may be noted in the local market, financial affairs strictly have manifested but little tendency to fluctuation during the past few weeks and so far since the first of the present month the course of the market has been one of quite the usual steadiness in this regard. The supply of loanable funds is regarded as ample to supply the present and probable future demand for trade purposes, with a fair margin for permanent investment in improvements etc. The rates heretofore prevailing are, however, firmly sustained, and but little anticipations are felt that any reduction will occur this season the present tendency being rather toward a hardening of rates.

The latest advices from San Francisco report the coin supply large and the demand moderate with promise of greater activity as soon as business shall have recovered from the paralysis of the election.

Fears of a violent shock to commercial interests of the country by a change of the administrative policy seem to have been mainly confined to political writers and politicians. The Commercial Herald of San Francisco the oldest commercial journal on this coast, says:

"We are passing through one of the most trying [illegible] to which this great republic has ever been [illegible]. It is an ordeal calculated to test the durability of republican government to the utmost. It is an ordeal that demands the nicest consideration, the coolest judg[illegible], the most [illegible] [illegible] examination, and the highest exercise of patriotism to pass with honor for the benefit of the nation, the [illegible] of our integrity as a united people and the triumph of Republican principles. This can only be effected by a noble and graceful acknowledgement of defeat by the unsuccessful party, and a magnanimous determination to surrender temporary control to insure the retention of those grander and more permanent features which have made the United States of America one of the first and most respected powers on the globe. Nothing could be more natural than the distrust with which our Republican form of government was regarded by older and long tried systems of other countries. It was denounced as an experiment, without solidity or attributes of long endurance. Our credit abroad was next to nothing while we were frequently ridiculed by foreign [illegible] and journalists to counteract the sapping influence of our institutions. Unofficious persistence, steadfast energy, and intelligent action [illegible] this country in that proud position it now occupies, and it depends now wholly upon a dignified submission to the result of the Presidential election, regardless of which party may be placed in temporary power, whether our credit abroad will be impaired or whether it will be augmented by a display of that finer patriotism which one has a right to expect from American intelligence and devotion in the best interests of the country through its length and breadth. The solution of this most vital question depends on the American people, and not on the success of one political party over another. It is nec[illegible]ary, then, to be temperate, cautious judicious and manly, not yielding to impulse, and refraining from intestine contentions."

Pacific Coast Wheat.

The resources of the Pacific coast as a wheat producing [illegible] have become notorious now throughout the world and hereafter ship owners will [illegible] look here for certain remunerative business in the transportation of the grain crops of California and Oregon to the markets of demand in the old world. This fact of the certainty of crops [illegible] a great deal of tonnage [illegible] lack of vessels and extreme freight rates having [illegible] years been a very material drawback to this branch of our commerce. California, it was estimated last harvest, would this year have [illegible] 700,000 to 800,000 tons, but recent estimates based upon the movement up to the middle of the current month place the amount at 650,000 tons. Oregon will have at least 100,000 tons for export, and if prices induce a thorough cleaning out of the crop, we may expect the export trade to [illegible] 17 tons for the year 1876-77. These quantities, [illegible] now [illegible] no unimportant item in the commerce of the nation, are insignificant in [illegible] to the vast extent to which this industry may [illegible] in the two States named. In fact it is a [illegible] expectation that the time will [illegible] when the grain trade of the Pacific [illegible] will [illegible] one of the leading branches of [illegible] in the commercial world and rank with any [illegible] in value and importance. The part which Oregon's resources will enable her to take in [illegible] of trade, will be second to none. Her soil, her climate and facilities for producing [illegible] inland transportation, all favor her taking a front rank among the leading grain producing countries of the globe. Only the means of making a ready market, and at less expense and [illegible] population, prevent her from taking that rank at a very early day.

Domestic Produce.

We have no important changes to note in this [illegible] thus far during the week. The feeling [illegible] which took a start the latter part of last week seems to quiet down on Monday, but the past two days have been quite as exciting in the market as any of the season, which is not saying [illegible] has been the general rule. The volume of the movement in this cereal has however been [illegible] fairly increased during the last four or five days, and the transportation facilities [illegible] are pretty well employed. The several [illegible] loading, are progressing quite rapidly [illegible] of clearances for November [illegible] exceed those of any former month of the year. [illegible] at this writing are firm at our quotations with chances of an advance.

[illegible] fair demand, and though shipments to San F[illegible] are not brisk, some demand from [illegible] and a good local trade serve to make [illegible] fairly active. Oats are a little [illegible] and prices well sustained. Judging by receipts at this point up to date, the surplus of the [illegible] remarkably [illegible] comparatively insignificant quantity has yet been shipped. Provisions and dairy products are unchanged. Fruits and vegetables are in increased supply and prices ruling low.

Marine Intelligence.

The steamship Geo. W. Elder will leave San Francisco for Portland to-morrow (Thursday). She will sail [illegible] on her return on Sunday or Monday.

The steamship Gussie Telfair has her inward cargo discharged and will probably sail for Sitka on Friday.

The ship Crownthorpe is taking on wheat at Flanders' wharf.

The Aldeli Br[illegible] is loading for Hongkong at McCraken's wharf.

The British ship Roxburghshire is discharging coal at the new Gas Co.'s dock.

The Herald of Nov. 16th says "there is still a large amount of surplus tonnage in San Francisco and with low and nominal freight rates ruling some owners are sending off their vessels in ballast to Manila and elsewhere seeking while yet others show a disposition to load wheat upon ships account, and trust to the future of English and European markets to help them to a living freight. This course they deem preferable to accepting 40 shillings or even less for a cargo of breadstuffs or general [illegible] to the United Kingdom. There does not appear to be a single wheat charter on the market at present—spot rates low and altogether nominal, say £2 5s to a direct port in the United Kingdom. The last spot charter reported was consummated ten days ago—that of W R Grace, at £2 10s, and which from to day's standpoint is an extreme rate."

CITY ADVERTISEMENTS.

Ordinance No. 1848.

AN ORDINANCE TO PROVIDE FOR THE TIME and manner of improving Mill street from the center of Second street to the west line of Fourth street.

The City of Portland does ordain as follows:

Section 1. The proposed improvement of that part of Mill street lying between the center line of Second street and the west line of Fourth street shall be completed as hereinafter provided on or before the 1st day of January 1877.

Section 2. The surface of the street shall be cleared of all timber plank or other obstructions (sidewalks and plank roadways of the proper width and grade and otherwise in good condition excepted). If the obstructions are not removed within three days after notice from the Superintendent of Streets they shall be removed by and become the property of the contractor.

Section 3. The improvement shall consist of grading to the established grade and laying sidewalks, crosswalks and plank gutters along the south curb line [illegible] inches wide.

Section 4. The work to be done and materials furnished shall correspond with the provisions of and under the restrictions contained in sections 7, 8, 9 and 11 of Ordinance No 793 entitled "An Ordinance in relation to the improvement of streets" or as near thereto as [illegible].

Section 5. The contractor shall take entire charge of the work during its progress and shall be responsible for any loss or accident resulting from carelessness or neglect.

Section 6. The improvement shall be completed to the satisfaction of the Committee on Streets and Public Property and the Superintendent of Streets.

Ordinance No. 1849.

AN ORDINANCE TO PROVIDE FOR THE TIME and manner of improving Market street from the center of Fifth to the center of Sixth streets.

The City of Portland does ordain as follows:

Section 1. The proposed improvement of that part of Market street lying between the center line of fifth street and the center line of sixth street shall be completed as hereinafter provided on or before the 1st day of January 1877.

Section 2. The surface of the street shall be cleared of all timber, plank or other obstructions (sidewalks and crosswalks of the proper width and grade and otherwise in good condition excepted). If the obstructions are not removed within three days after notice from the Superintendent of streets they shall be removed by and become the property of the contractor.

Section 3—The improvement shall consist of grading, laying sidewalks and crosswalks.

Section 4—The grading, sidewalks and crosswalks shall correspond as nearly as practicable to the provisions of sections 6 7 8 and 9 of Ordinance No 793 entitled "An Ordinance in relation to the improvement of streets."

Section 5. The provisions of sections 11 and 12 of said Ordinance No 793 shall apply to all lumber and material used in the improvement provided for by this Ordinance.

Section 6. The contractor shall take entire charge of the work during its progress and shall be responsible for any loss or accident resulting from carelessness or neglect.

Section 7. The improvement shall be completed to the satisfaction of the Committee on Streets and Public Property and the Superintendent of Streets.

OBJECTS.

This Savings Bank has been formed at the desire and under the auspices of thirty one gentlemen citizens of Oregon and Washington Territory who have become stockholders therein along with certain other gentlemen in Scotland to supply a want hitherto much felt namely an institution where similar to those in California, the working farming and other classes of Oregon and Washington Territory may from time to time deposit their various savings along with the Bank's own capital for investment in Oregon and Washington Territory [to which the Bank's operations are limited] secured from Mortgages over City Properties, Farming and other Lands for the purpose thereby of assisting to develop the industries of the North Pacific coast.

The Bank's Directors and Officers in Oregon having had considerable experience in finance and real estate securities their policy will be to guard depositors' moneys and the stockholders capital by loaning only on first class securities, high interest being a secondary consideration. The Bank does not therefore seek to employ its funds in a commercial banking business, confining its operations strictly to those securities with which its Directors are familiarly acquainted such as real estate loans advances on bonds assignments and similar securities which are not fluctuating in value. Hence no loans will be made on Promissory Notes alone or Bills of Exchange and such like.

Security to Depositors.

The security for repayment of Depositors' moneys is two fold:

1st. Not only the mortgages assignments bonds and other pledges on which the Bank's Deposits are carefully loaned and the real estate secured thereby, which must be located in Oregon and Washington Territory: but also,

2d. The Bank's own $300,000 capital specially pledged for the safety of depositors in order that all losses (if any) shall be made therefrom thus forming a double security for depositors' moneys.

No charge for entrance fee or pass books.

Deposits received from $2 50 and upwards.

Rates of interest on application.

Hours from 9 A M to 3 P M.

Certificate of Incorporation Constitution Articles of Association Regulations and By laws for depositors, may be seen at the Bank's office.
